

NOTE ON SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURS

In order to make an impact on the common man, Department of Administrative Reforms and Public Grievances (DARPG) submitted a Note before the Committee of Secretaries (CoS) on 'Revamping the Institutional Mechanism for Implementation of Recommendations of the 2nd Administrative Reforms Commission (2nd ARC).' The CoS under the chairmanship of Cabinet Secretary considered the note in its meeting held on 06.11.2012. The CoS, interalia, decided that

- a) DARPG may develop modules to sensitize officers at various levels of All India Services / Central Services and State Services at the training academies / institutes.

- b) DARPG may address the Academies, both National and States and the Administrative Training Institutes to include the recommendations of the ARC appropriately as a module in the induction and all mid-career curriculum.

- c) DARPG may organize training of the faculty/ trainers and acquaint them with the ARC recommendations. On specific topics like ethics, it may be advisable to have the talk delivered by a person who is widely respected in the field.

Capacity Building of CTIs and State ATIs

2. (i). In continuation with the direction by CoS, the Department provided financial assistance for development of modules etc. on 2nd ARC to 17 Central Training Institutes (CTIs) and 29 State Administrative Training Institutes (State ATIs).

- (ii). Workshops to discuss outlines of modules with CTIs and State ATIs were held on 17.05.2013 and 29.05.2013 respectively and draft training modules were circulated to them.

- (iii). A national level workshop was held for training of trainers on 2nd ARC was held at National Academy of Customs, Excise and Narcotics (NACEN), Faridabad, on 26-27th August, 2013. The workshop at NACEN was attended by representatives from CTIs and eminent persons invited by this Department. This was followed up by organizing Three Training of Trainers programmes (ToT) for the faculty / resource persons from State level Training Institutes at State ATI, Mysore on 30-31st October, 2013 and at Mahatma Gandhi State Institute of Public Administration, Chandigarh, held on 25-26

November,2013 and scheduled at State ATI, Kolkata, on 19-20th December,2013.

(iv). Through these ToTs, the Department has been able to create a pool of trainers who can be utilized by CTIs and State ATIs for imparting training on 2nd ARC report.

(v). It was decided that CTIs and State ATIs may customize the training module as per their needs and will also develop one -day / half-day module for mid-service training on their own.

Engagement of Social Entrepreneurs with CTIs and State ATIs

3. (i). The CoS in its meeting held on 06.12.2013, interalia, decided that DARPG may organize training of the faculty / trainers and acquaint them with ARC recommendations. On specific topics like ethics, it may be advisable to have the talk delivered by a person who is widely respected in the field.

(ii). It has been observed that Government officers coming to the CTIs and State ATIs for induction and mid-service level training are not adequately exposed to the outstanding initiatives happening in the social sector outside the Government. They would benefit immensely from exposure to such initiatives and have a fresh insight into the challenges faced by the disadvantaged sections of society and how these challenges can be addressed with innovative and effective use of the available human, financial and technological resources. It was decided, therefore, to have consultation with social entrepreneurs who have successfully ventured into creating social capital in the country, to put in place an institutional mechanism for involving them in the training programme for Government officers.

(iii) Two meetings with selected Social Entrepreneurs of repute took place in the Department on 25.09.2013 and 22.11.2013 respectively. Secretary (AR &PG) informed that creating right kind of motivation in the Government servants and exposing them to good initiatives taking place within and outside the Government is of critical importance for improving the quality of governance. The exposure to experiences of social entrepreneurs will not only help them know the innovative processes adopted for building a collaborative and participative environment, but will also help in understanding the barriers and challenges encountered in implementation of projects. All the social entrepreneurs present in the meetings welcomed the initiative taken by the department and expressed their willingness to be part of the training programmes of the CTIs and State ATIs. It was decided to upload the list of social entrepreneurs on website of the Department i.e www.darpg.gov.in and share it with the CTIs and State ATIs.

Particulars of Social Entrepreneurs, who conveyed their willingness to be part of the training programme

4. (i). Shri Anshu Gupta

Tel:011-26972351/41401216
(Email: anshu@goonj.org)
www.goonj.org

Shri Anshu Gupta is founder of Goonj. Goonj has demonstrated that 'cloth' can be a powerful development resource for India's last-mile communities. Goonj collects, sorts, repurposes and re-distributes the excess and under-used resources of urban households to the rural and urban poor, where 'material poverty' is the deepest. Village and slum communities, in exchange of cloth and material, conduct self-organized and local development and infrastructure building programmes, leading to more than 500 infrastructure projects every year - such as the setting up of schools, concrete roads, bridges, wells, irrigation canals and toilets across 1500 villages. The 'Cloth for Work' approach spurs behaviour change on both the demand and supply sides: marginal communities begin to believe in their own capacity for catalysing change and urban India learn to contribute material based on what the poor need.
