ITI launches elephant statue made from 30K plastic bottles

POST NEWS NETWORK

Berhampur, Oct 1: The Government Industrial Training Institute (ITI) here has been making unique statues and sculptures going by its "Waste to Wealth" mantra. This time, however, its students have built a 23-foot elephant statue inspired by the Prime Minister's call for "Swachhata Hi Seva" ahead of the Gandhi Jayanti. The statue has been built by using 30,000 used plastic bottles.

The statue was inaugurated Sunday in the presence of Berhampur MLA Bikram Kumar Panda, Mayor Sanghamitra Dabel, political secretary to CM Gopinath Das, state planning board member Ramesh Chandra Chyau Pattanaik and OSCDC Ltd chairman Subash Moharana.

Students made this elephant statue after collecting plastic bottles from various place in the city, Principal Rajat Kumar Panigrahi said. First the structure of the elephant was made with scrapped iron rods and later the structure was filled with plastic bottles and covered with plastic net. Plastic bottles should be recycled as they do not decompose in the soil and are precarious for our environment.

New Delhi: The Centre has earned ₹1,162 crore from scrap disposal during its special cleanliness drives and plans are afoot to further accelerate it with the help of the states, minister of state for personnel Jitendra Singh said on Monday. The cleanliness campaigns carried out at over four lakh sites have resulted in wedging out nearly 96.10 lakh files, including electronic files, besides freeing up 355.50 lakh square feet of space, which has become India's largest campaign for institutionalising 'swachata', Singh said.

He said without spending a significant sum, the government has been able to earn so many crores through the cleanliness campaign, "which, in my opinion, is a huge success".

A large crowd of people is gathered in a public square, possibly during a protest or demonstration. In the foreground, there is a large, dark, rectangular structure that appears to be a stage or a barrier. The crowd is dense and extends into the background, where some buildings are visible. The overall atmosphere suggests a significant public event.

These patterns have been reported in the life of Ben Sira, an Egyptian Jew who was active during the Hellenistic period in the second century B.C. Some time in his lifetime, Ben Sira wrote a book of wisdom, the Sirach, which was later included in the Septuagint. The book is a collection of sayings and maxims, many of which are similar to those found in the Proverbs. The book is written in Hebrew, but the original text is now lost. The book was discovered in the 15th century in a manuscript in the Vatican Library. The book is written in a style that is very similar to the style of the Proverbs.
